Preface

A child is a great wonder. There is no end to the thinking about his/her world of wonder. A child is a subject of contemplation for educationists, scientists, philosophers, child specialists and psychologists. The fundamental principles of children education outlined in the National Education Policy 2010 have been defined in the light of these contemplations. The curriculum for primary education has been revised to develop a child on the potentials of his/her innate amazement, unbounded curiosity, endless joy and enthusiasm keeping in view the all-round development of children's potentials. The aims and objectives of primary education were modified in the revised curriculum of 2011.

The necessity of learning Religion and Moral Education is becoming wider everyday. It is utmost necessary at primary level. Because, at this age, a child's religious and moral base is strongly developed. Keeping this in mind, the section of Moral Teachings has been added in the Hindu Religion and Moral Education in the light of National Education Policy 2010. The objective behind this is to lay special importance on imbibing moral qualities by the learners along with imparting them lessons of religious lessons.

To make the young learners interested, enthusiastic and dedicated, Bangladesh Awami League Government under the dynamic leadership of the Honorable Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina has taken initiatives to change the textbooks into four colors, and make them interesting, sustainable and distributed free of cost since 2009. The textbooks of Pre-primary, Primary, Secondary, Ibtedaie, Dakhil, Dakhil Vocational and SSC Vocational level are being distributed free of cost across the country which is a historical initiative of the present government.

My sincere acknowledgement and thanks to all who had helped in different stages of composition, edition, rational evaluation, printing and publication of the textbook. Though all cares have been taken by those concerned, the book may contain some errors/lapses. Therefore, any constructive and rational suggestions will be highly appreciated for further improvement and enrichment of the book. We will deem all our efforts successful if the young learners for whom it is intended find it useful to them.

Chapter One

God, The Almighty

Our earth is very beautiful. Human beings, trees, rivers, animals, birds, insects- all these of this earth are beautiful. We are all charmed to see this beautiful earth and its beautiful creations. A question arises in our mind- Who has created all these beautiful things? In fact, it is God, the Almighty Who has created our beautiful earth and all the beautiful things of this earth. God has created not only this earth but also everything outside this earth.

Scenery

God, The Almighty

God has created everything. But no one has created Him. He is the creator of Himself. So He is self-created, self expressive, all in Himself.

But why does God create all these? God creates all these things to express His glory and greatness, His joy and playfulness. The purpose of God's creations is to create joy and beauty. Creation of all living beings and lifeless objects is a manifestation of God's glory, joy and playfulness. God's greatness is revealed everywhere in this world. His creations are manifold and diverse.

God is one and unique. He is eternal, timeless and perpetual. He is the possessor of all virtues and qualities. His glory is boundless. The following hymn in the holy book of Geeta speaks of God's glory and greatness :

Anantaviryamitavikramastwam
Sarvam samapnoshi tato-osi sarvah.

Meaning : 'O the Omnipotent (God), You are the Almighty, You are the Omnipresent, You are all in all.'

God has no peer. There is no one superior to Him. The Almighty God can do everything. Everything is under His control. He is the creator, rearer and destroyer of all humans, animals, birds, insects, natural objects and the whole universe. So we should have deep love and respect to God. We should have firm faith in God.

Let us write five words that express God's virtue and power in the following chart :

3.

God is the Omnipresent. He is everywhere. He exists as the eternal soul in all living creatures. He can see everyone and everything. But we cannot see him for ourselves. We can feel His presence in His creations. If we want to love God, we must love all living beings and all His creations. To love God's creations means to love God.

Trees, plants, animals, birds, insects do good to us. They serve us in many ways, So we should plant trees and take a regular care of them. By taking good care of them we can show our love and respect to God. God becomes pleased with us and does welfare to us when we take a loving care of all trees, plants, animals, birds and insects.

Thus we understand that God is the Almighty. He is the controller of everything. With this belief at heart we should love God and His creations. We should take care of animal-bird, tree-plant and all living beings. We must always bear it in mind and follow it in all our activities.

Chapter Two

Deities and Their Worship

We know that when a virtue or a power of God, the Almighty gets embodied, we call this embodiment a deity. We also call the deities gods and goddesses. These gods and goddesses become pleased when we worship them. Then the deities do good to us bringing welfare and benefits. When the deities are pleased, God Himself becomes pleased.

Now, let us try to know about three gods and one goddess and their worships. Brahmaa, Vishnu, Shiva are the three gods and the one goddess is Durga.

Brahmaa

Brahmaa is a manifestation of God, the Almighty. He is the deity of creation. To create is his function. He has created everything of this universe. He also gets things created by us. In fact, Brahmaa's grace lies at the root of every creation.

Brahmaa has four faces and four hands. The two hands in the left contain a holy water jug and a container of ghee (clarified butter). The two hands in the right contain a ghee spoon and a rosary (a string of beads). The skin-colour of Brahmaa is gory-white. A swan is Brahmaa's vehicle. A red-lotus is his seat. Brahmaa will bring welfare for us if we worship him.

Brahmaa

2018 There is no specific date for the worship of Brahmaa. A day is fixed for the worship of Brahmaa by observing the lunar movement. There is a temple of Brahmaa at a holy place for pilgrimage named Pushkar in the Indian-Subcontinent. A special prayer is offered there worshipping Brahmaa. The god Brahmaa loves red flowers. So red flowers are offered on the altar of Brahmaa.

We worship Brahmaa with flower, fruit, incense smoke and a holy lamp. After worshipping we bow down our heads to Brahmaa reciting some holy lines.

Hymn for the Salutation of Brahmaa

Namo-ostu Vishweshwara Vishwadhama
Gagatsavitre Bhagawanovamaste.
Saptarchilokaya cha Bhutalesha
Sarvantarasthaya nomo-namaste.

Meaning : O God, the king of the Universe, the Creator of the Universe, we do salute You. O Master of the Earth, the Shelter of the rays of the seven Suns, existing in every soul, we do salute you again and again.

Vishnu

Vishnu is a manifestation of God, the Almighty. Vishnu rears and protects us. So Vishnu is our rearer and protector.

Vishnu has four hands. There are a conch, a corrugated disc, a cudgel, a lotus in each of the four hands of Vishnu. Vishnu holds a conch in the upper left hand, a corrugated disc in the upper right hand, a cudgel in the lower left hand, a lotus in the lower right hand. The colour of Vishnu's body resembles moon-light. Garuda, a sacred bird is the carriage of Vishnu.

Vishnu

There is no specific date for the worship of Vishnu. The worship of Vishnu can be done on any day. Vishnu is fond of holy basil leaf (Tulsipata). Without this holy basil leaf the worship of Vishnu cannot be done. The worshippers of Vishnu are called Vaishnavas.

The other name of Vishnu is Narayan. He suppresses the Knaves, the mischievous and rears and protects the honest people. He establishes the virtues of truth and justice. We can remove our sins by worshipping Vishnu.

The worship of any deity begins with chanting the name of Vishnu. We all worship Vishnu with complete devotion. We pray to Vishnu for the welfare of all humans. At the end of the worship we bow down our heads to the deity of Vishnu.

Hymn for the Salutation of Vishnu

Namo Brahmanyadevaya gobraahmanahitaya cha
Gagaddhitaya Krishnaya Govindaya namo-namah.

Meaning : We do salute Brahmanya-Deva i.e. Vishnu. We do salute the Saviour, the Benefactor of the Universe, the Mother Earth and the Brahmins, the Lord Krishna, the Lord Govinda again and again.

Shiva

God, the Almighty is eternal, timeless and perpetual. He has no destruction, no extinction. But God's any creation has a limited life-span. With the end of the life-span it will be destroyed. Humans, animals, birds, insects, trees, plants-everything will be destroyed. Only the soul remains immortal. God only recreates the old soul into a new one. The incarnation by which God destroys everything is known as the Shiva. Shiva destroys all the evil things for our welfare. The god Shiva has many names—"Ruddra (wrathful), Pashupati (Animal King), Mahadeva (Great God), Ashutosh (quickly pleased), Volanath (Indifferent God), Vaiddanath (King of the Physicians), Nataraj (Drama King) etc.

The skin colour of god Shiva is as white as snow. He has three eyes. The third eye of Shiva is on the forehead. His hair is curly. At the upper surface of his forehead there is an image of a crescent. There are two musical instruments in his hands – a tabor in one hand and a trumpet in another hand. Trident is his main weapon. He puts a wear of tiger skin. An ox is the carriage of Shiva.

On any day and at any time the worship of Shiva can be done. But it is noteworthy that on the 14th day of the new moon in the month of Falgun the worship of Shiva can be specially done. This fourteenth lunar day is an auspicious time and the night is called the night of the god Shiva (Shiv-Ratree). The worshippers of Shiva are known as the Shaivva.

The god Shiva is fond of wood-apple leaves. So the wood-apple leaves (Belpata) are essential for the worship of Shiva. All the evil things, bad forces and curses get destroyed if Shiva is worshipped, Happiness and welfare descend upon us.

After worshipping Shiva we bow down our heads to Shiva reciting the holy lines about the deity.

Hymn for the Salutation of Shiva

Namah Shivaya Shantaya Karanatrayahetave
Nivedayami chatmanam twam gatih Parameshwara.

Meaning : We do salute the god Shiva for three factors (creation, continuance and destruction). O the great god, you are the motion. We do submit ourselves to you, Shiva.

Durga

Durga is the goddess of power. She is a symbolised form of a combined force. She has many names and many images. We can refer to some names such as Mahamaya (Great Illusion), Bhagavati (goddess of strength and glory), Chandi (goddess of fury), Maha-Lakshmi (Great goddess of wealth) etc. This deity of power is named Durga as she killed a demon named Durgam. She puts an end to the sufferings of all creatures. For this she is also called the destroyer of all sorrows and sufferings.

Durga

The skin-colour of Durga is bright yellow like a linseed flower. Her face is as bright as the full moon. She has three eyes. So she is called a three-eyed goddess. One of her eyes is on the middle of her forehead. There is a crescent at one side of her head. The goddess Durga has ten hands. She is also named the Ten-handed. Ten weapons in her ten hands. She fights against injustice, torture and terror with her ten hands.

There is a story about the goddess Durga in our holy religious book the Sree Sree Chanddi. From this story we come to know that the goddess Durga has slain the demon named Mahishasura. So the other name of Durga is the slayer of Mahishasura. He also slew many other demons. At the worship of the goddess Durga the holy book Sree Sree Chandi is read out.

In the season of Autumn Durga Puja (the worship of Durga) is observed. It is also called the Autumnal worship. It is observed even in the spring. For this it is also called Spring worship.

Durga is rightly called the terminator of all sufferings. She brings welfare for all of us. She gives us strength and force, valour and spirit. All dangers get removed if we remember her name. So at the time of a journey we can chant her name three times-Durga, Durga, Durga etc.

At the end of her worship we bow down our heads to the goddess Durga.

Hymn for the Salutation of Durga

Sarvamangala-mangalye Shive sarvarthasadhike
Sharanye tryamvake Gouri Narayaninamo-astute.

Meaning : O the welfare-giving, O the Benefactor, the Source of all knowledge, the Deity of Shelter, the Three-eyed Deity, O Gouri, Narayani we do humbly salute you.

Let us fill in the following chart :

1. The colour of Brahmaa's favourite flower
2. The favourite tree-leaf of Vishnu
3. The favourite tree-leaf of Shiva
4. At the start of a journey we have to chant

We get inspiration for our creative work from the blessings of Brahmaa. We get purified by worshipping Vishnu. We get encouraged and prepared to establish the virtues of truth and justice by getting inspiration from Vishnu. As the god Shiva does welfare for us all, we too get encouraged to do good to others. We get strength and courage from the goddess Durga. We all shall reveal, express and embody all the virtues and blessings of the worships of all these gods and goddesses.

Chapter Three

Hermits-Saints and Scriptures

Section One

Hermits-Saints

In ancient times there were many pious people. Many of them sitting in a solitary forest were absorbed in deep meditation of God. They were free from greed. They gained a spiritual knowledge through this meditation. They realised God. They acquired a deep knowledge of religion. They were called hermits.

A hermit

The hermits who could express the hymns of the Vedas through spiritual exercise were called saints. The verses in the Vedas are known as the hymns. The hermits and the saints were the teachers of that time. They were the exponents of science and other branches of learning. Here are the names of some famous hermits and saints. They are Atri, Kashaipa, Goutam, Bashishtha, Vishvamitra, Kanna, Moitraee, Gargee etc.

Write three sentences about the hermits and the saints in the following chart :

Saints have been divided into seven classes. The seven classes are—Brahmarshi, Devarshi, Maharshi, Paramarshi, Kandorshi, Shrutarshi and Rajorshi.

Brahmarshi - Those who have a clear knowledge of the god Brahmaa are Brahmarshi. For example, Bashishtha.

Devarshi - Devarshi is one who in spite of being a god acts like a saint. For example, Narod. A Devarshi lives in heaven.

Maharshi - The saints who are leading in character and great-hearted are called Maharshi. For example—Bashdev.

Paramarshi - The saints who have visualised the Supreme Brahmaa are called Paramarshi. For example—Pailo.

Kandarshi - There are two sections of a Veda- the section of action and the section of knowledge. In the section of action there is a depiction of holy sacrifices. In the section of knowledge there is a depiction of knowledge and the spirit of supreme Brahmaa. The saints who are well-versed in the sections of a Veda are called Kandarshi. For example, Jaimini has explained the section of action of the Veda.

Shrutarshi - The Vedas are the messages of the Almighty God. The saints have acquired the hymns of the Vedas through meditation. But every saint has not done the same. Some of the saints have heard about the Vedas from other saints and thus acquired them. Such saints learning through listening are called Shrutarshi. For example— Sushruta.

Rajorshi - The saints who, in spite of being kings, have become saints are called Rajorshi. For example—King Janak.

The saints have many virtues. They always think of the welfare of all living beings.

They do not hesitate even to sacrifice their lives for the betterment of the universe.

We can learn many things and gain spiritual knowledge from them. We get the moral lesson of doing good to all creatures of the world from them. We should follow them. We shall do good to every creature as they have done.

Here we shall know about two saints.

Saint Vishvamisra

Vishvamisra was a famous saint. His father's name was Gadhi. Gadhi was the king of the kingdom kannokuj, Kushik was the name of the grandfather of Vishvamisra. For this he was known as Koushik.

Vishvamisra was Kshatriya (a man of the warrior caste). He was a prince. He also became a king. But ultimately he became a saint through meditation and spiritual practice. With the blessings of Brahmaa he became a Rajorshi and finally a Brahmarshi.

Once he went out on a hunting expedition. Many soldiers accompanied him. Everyone of the hunting party grew very tired, hungry and thirsty after wandering from place to place. The monastery of Brahmarshi Bashishtha was situated nearby. Vishvamisra went to that monastery. Saint Bashishtha had a Kamdhenu (a cow granting all-wishes). Whatever is wanted from that special cow Kamdhenu is granted. With the help of Kamdhenu saint Bashishtha was able to entertain Vishvamisra and his men. Vishvamisra was satisfied at this hospitality. Everyone regained energy and freshness.

Vishvamisra was amazed at the magical power of Kamdhenu. He desired to get it. He expressed his desire to Bashishtha. In exchange he would give one thousand cows. But Bashishtha was not willing to give. He was very much reluctant to give it away. Then Vishvamisra tried to take it forcibly. The Kamdhenu started bellowing. At this many soldiers appeared in favour of Kamdhenu. There was a severe fight between the two parties. The party led by Vishvamisra got defeated. Now Vishvamisra out of fury attacked Vishvamisra casting one weapon after another. But the saint Bashishtha was unhurt. He foiled all the attacks of Vishvamisra with the help of Brahma-danda (holystick of a Brahmin).

2018 Vishvamisra with all his soldiers was defeated. Many of his soldiers got killed. He had a great pride in his strength. His pride got shattered. He had an idea—only the Kshatriya (a warrior caste were the most powerful. The main duty of the Kshatriya is to fight and to protect the kingdom. On the other hand, the main duty of the Brahmins is to meditate and to make sacrifices. We can see that the power of arms gets defeated by the power of meditation and spiritual practice of the Brahmins. Vishvamitra then realised the greatness of meditation and spiritual practice of the Brahmins.

Let us fill in the chart :

1. The other name of Vishvamitra
2. Vishvamitra wanted to take from Bashishtha
3. Vishvamitra with the fight against Bashishtha

Vishvamitra left his kingdom. He went to engage himself in meditation. He must gain the Brahminhood. It was his promise. He devoted himself to the severe task of spiritual meditation. The god Brahmaa became pleased at his spiritual meditation. With the blessings of Brahmaa he gained the Brahminhood. Subsequently he became a Brahmarshi. Then he started living in a solitary forest named Tapobon. His name as a saint spread far and wide. Everyone started respecting him.

We do promise to be as caring and dutiful as the saint Vishvamitra. We shall do good to mankind. From his life we shall learn the virtues of sacrifice and fortitude.

Learned Gargee

In the Vedas we find the names of many female saints such as Gargee, Ghosha, Bishwabara, Apala, Lopamudra etc.

In ancient times medical science, art of warfare, theology, were studied. A deep knowledge about the Creator, Creations, soul, birth-death etc. is called the knowledge of Brahma. All the living beings and the universe are created from Brahma. This understanding is called knowledge of Brahma. At that time women too were engaged in the pursuit of Brahma knowledge. Gargee was the pioneer of them. People used to address her as the Learned Gargee, the Brahma-seeker Gargee.

There is a story about the Brahma knowledge of Gargee. Once the king of Mithila named Janaka arranged a ritual of sacrifice. Many wise men were present at that function of sacrifice. Many hermits and saints were also present at that ritual of sacrifice. Learned Gargee was also there. On the altar of sacrifice many gifts and honorarium were presented. So this was called the sacrifice with multi-gifts.

King Janaka declared that he would donate thousand cow to the saint who is the greatest with the knowledge of Brahma. Maharshi Yajnavalkya rose hearing the declaration of king Janaka. He claimed himself to be the wisest saint and demanded thousand cows. But everyone present there did not accept Yajnavalkya's stand. There was a serious debate on this issue. A debate about the knowledge of Brahma! Many questions were raised. Yajnavalkya answered all the questions. Everyone accepted his supremacy except Learned Gargee.

Gargee started asking Yajnavalkya one question after another. Yajnavalkya too answered the questions.

The questions asked by Gargee appeared to be hard and harder. At one stage Gargee asked Yajnavalkya about the knowledge of Brahma.

Yajnavalkya told Gargee to stop asking. In the Veda there is a limit to raise questions. Finally Yajnavalkya gave answers to all the questions put by Gargee. So he was found to be the wisest about Brahma. It was he who received the gifts of king Janaka.

Though Yajnavalkya was the most learned about the knowledge of Brahma. Gargee was not less wise than he. So everyone regarded her as the lady enlightened with the knowledge of Brahma. She was congratulated on her being a very learned female saint. We too remember her with profound respect.

From the lives of Brahmarshi Vishvamitra and the learned Gargee we get a moral lesson that the power of meditation and Brahma knowledge is much greater than that of might. Knowledge is more powerful than weapons. There remains no discrimination between a learned man and a learned woman. Both a man and a woman are honoured and respected in the society when they gain knowledge. So we all should try our best to gain knowledge more and more for the peace and progress of mankind.

Section Two

Scriptures (Religious Books)

We know that in a Scripture or religious book we find the ways of religion, statements about God, many wise sayings, principles about human welfare, good counsels about health, family life, social life, right modes of conduct, love and care for all living creatures and many other things.

We also know that the Veda is the principal book of religion of the Hindus. Besides Vedas, there are other books on Hindu religion such as Upanishad, Puran, Ramayan, Mahabharata etc. In class three we learnt about Ramayan. In class iv we shall learn about Mahavarat.

Mahabharata

Mahabharata is a big book. Bashdev composed it in Sanskrit language. The original name of Vyasadeva is Krishna-Dvaipayana. Kashiram Das translated Mahabharata into Bangla.

The main story of Mahabharata is about the battle between the Kurus and the Pandavas. Many other plots and sub-plots have been added to it. The Hindus treat Mahabharata as respectfully as they treat Ramayana. Many of them either read or listen to the stories of Mahabharata. Listening to Mahabharata is like drinking nectar. It makes us purified and virtuous. So Kashiram Das says :

The stories of Mahabharata are like nectar
Kashiram Das says
They are listened to by the virtuous and the better.

1. Genesis Canto

It is a long story, a story of ancient past. In India there was a kingdom named Hastinapur. Once Shantanu was the king of that kingdom. King Shantanu had three sons- Devabrata, Chitrangada and Bichitro-birya. Devabrata was the eldest of them. But he made a firm promise that he would never marry and would never ascend the throne. For his resolute promise he was named Bishmaa. Chitrangada died at a tender age. So Bichitro-birya became the king in place of his father Shantanu. Bichitro-birya had two sons. They were Dhritarastra and Pandu. Dhritarastra was born blind. Hence after the death of Bichitro-birya Pandu became the king. Dhritarastra had one hundred sons and one daughter. The name of the eldest son was Duryadhana. The Duryadhana's were called the Kurus. On the other hand, Pandu had five sons. The name of the eldest son was Yudhishtira. Pandu's sons were called the Pandavas. Yudhishtira was nominated as the crown-prince. But Duryadhana could not accept it. He made many attempts to kill the Pandavas. But he pandavas escaped their attacks and remained safe. Later on, Dhritarastra gave away the half of the kingdom to the Pandavas. Khandava-prastha was the kingdom of the Pandavas.

Let us fill in the following chart :

1. The Duryadhana's are called
2. Yudhishtira became the
3. The kingdom of the Pandavas

2. Assembly Canto

Duryadhana hit upon a new plan to drive away the Pandavas from the kingdom. He invited Yudhishtira to play a game of dice. Yudhishtira lost the game of dice. According to the pre-condition of the game the losing party the Pandavas along with their wife Droupadi went on an exile.

3. Forest Canto

The Pandavas kept on roaming in the forest. Thus twelve years went by. Then they entered the kingdom of Virata in disguise.

4. Virata Canto

There was a pre-condition of the game of dice that the Pandavas, the losing party, would have to live incognito for one year after the exile of twelve years. So the Pandavas lived incognito for one year in the kingdom of Virata.

5. Preparation Canto

After fulfilling the pre-condition the Pandavas returned to the Hastinapura with Droupadi. But Duryadhana did not give back to them their kingdom. Then Yudhishtira wanted five villages for five brothers. Duryadhana did not give the villages either. Lord Krishna tried to make a peaceful settlement between the two parties. But all the efforts ended in smoke. Finally both the Pandavas and the Kurus took preparations for the war.

6. Bhishma Canto

There was an open field named kurukshetra near Hastinapura. The Pandavas and the Kurus would fight there. Bhishma was the army chief of the kurus. Arjuna was the army chief of the Pandavas. Lord Sree Krishna was the charioteer of Arjuna. In the battle field Arjuna came to see the respectable elderly people and his relatives and got shocked and dejected. Arjuna said to Sree Krishna, "What would be the use of a kingdom if there were no relatives? Then Sree Krishna told Arjuna that it was a crusade and that battle would be fought for upholding religion." It would not be a sin to fight for the sake of religion and for justice. At this Arjuna became pacified. He prepared himself for the battle. The moral instructions and guidelines given by Sree Krishna to Arjuna that we find in Mahabharata are known as the Sreemadbhagavadgeetaa. The battle was fought for the days. There were so many arrows pierced into the body of Bhishma that his body could not rest on the ground. He had to lie on all the arrows. It was popularly called the bed of arrows of Bhishma.

7. Dronacharya Canto

After the death of Bhishma Dronacharya became the army chief of the Kurus. Then a fierce battle ensued. On one hand, Arjuna was busy with battle. On the other hand, Dronacharya raised a circular military array. Arjuna's son Abhimanyu entered there. He was all alone. At that time seven charioteers attacked him. They killed him. Arjuna became very furious at the death of his son. The battle continued. At one stage Dronacharya got killed. Consequently his son Ashawatthama became enraged at the loss of his father Dronacharya.

8. Karna Canto

The great hero Karna became the army chief of the Kurus after the death of Dronacharya. The two parties fought a severe fight against each other. Karna defeated everyone of the Pandavas except Arjuna. On the other hand, the brothers of Duryadhana got killed by Bhima. At one stage of the battle Karna got killed by Arjuna.

9. Shalya Canto

Karna was followed by king Shalya as the army chief of the Kurus. The fierce fight continued between the two parties. At one stage king Shalya got killed by Yudhishthira. Duryadhana's maternal uncle Shakuni got killed at the hands of Sahadeva. Duryadhana fled into the lake of Daipayana. Hearing this the Kurus went there. They scolded him severely. Duryadhana came out of the lake. A fierce cudgel fight started between Bhima and Duryadhana. At the heavy stroke of Bhima's cudgel Duryadhana's thigh broke. He fell down on the ground.

Battle between Bhima and Duryadhana

10. Sleep Canto

In this canto Ashawattama killed the sleeping soldiers of the Pandavas. So this canto is called sleep canto. In order to take revenge for the killing of his father Ashawattama entered the camp of the Pandavas at dead of night. He killed many soldiers one after another. Five sons of Droupadee who were thought to be the five Pandavas were also killed by him. But the Pandavas were not at that camp at that time. Ashawattama went to the wounded Duryadhana with the five heads of five sons. Duryadhana could recognise that those five heads were not of the Pandavas. They were the sons of the five Pandavas. He was very shocked. He was so overtaken by grief that he fell dead. At the loss of five sons Droupadee started lamenting and the entire camp of the Pandavas was plunged into deep grief.

11. Wife Canto

With the passage of 18 days the battle of Kurukshetra came to an end. No one of the hundred sons of Dhritarastra was alive. There was wailing at every house of Hastinapura. Dhritarastra came to the battle field of Kurukshetra with all the widows of the Kurus. They burst into tears at the sight of the dead bodies of all the relatives. Vyasadeva tried hard to pacify Dhritarastra. Everyone went to the bank of the Ganges after performing the last funeral rites of the dead bodies. As a mark of farewell to the dead bodies all of them made an offering of oblation to the Ganges water. Gandhari went mad with grief. Sree Krishna tried hard to pacify her.

12. Peace Canto

Now came the turn of Yudhishtira to be the king. But he did not want to be the king. He did not want to become the king after the killings of so many people. Sree Krishna tried hard to let Yudhishtira understand and come to his senses. At last his mind became calm and tranquil. He became the king. Then he went to the great Bhishma and saluted him touching his feet. Bhishma gave him good counsels.

13. Canon Canto

Yudhishtira learnt a lot about religion, peace etc. from the great Bhishma. Yudhishtira felt ashamed at the sight of Bhishma bleeding on the bed of arrows. Bhishma told him that he was not to blame. Moreover, it was the duty of the Kshatriya (warrior caste) to wage a war. It was Yudhishtira who carried out the duty of a Kshatriya. Bhishma also advised him a great deal about the importance of hospitality, self-confidence, reverence to the elders, righteousness, justice and the like. Then he embraced a voluntary death for which he was destined.

14. Horse-Sacrifice Canto

Yudhishtira devoted himself to the affairs of the kingdom. At the advice of Vyasadeva he arranged a horse-sacrifice ritual. The horse for the sacrifice ritual roamed all around the kingdom for one year. Arjuna and some soldiers accompanied the horse. Arjuna had to fight with so many kings who were all defeated. All the kings far and near were invited to the Horse-Sacrifice Ritual. Many hermits-saints, dignitaries, relatives attended the ritual. All of them admired Yudhishtira for observing the house-sacrifice ritual successfully.

15. Monastery Canto

All the subjects of the kingdom were happy during the reign of the pious Yudhishtira. Fifteen years of his reign went by. One day at one stage Dhritarastra said that he would go to the forest. The Pandavas very heartily requested him not to go to the forest. But he stuck to his decision. At long last Dhritarastra, Gandhari, Bidura, Kunti and Sanjaya went to the forest. Bidura breathed his last while in deep meditation. Then one day Dhritarastra, Gandhari, Kunti were all burnt to death. The only surviving man of the Kurus went to the Himalayas.

16. Cudgel Canto

Thirty six years of the reign of Yudhishtira successfully went by. During this reign the lineage of Sree Krishna called Yadu-Race got annihilated. The members of the Yadu-Race were called the Yadavas. The Yadavas themselves were responsible for the annihilation of the Yadu-Race. One day Maharshi Vishvamitra, Kanya and Narada arrived at Dwaroka. Then some Yadavas tried to deceive the saints. They disguised Shambo as a woman and told the saints to foretell what issue this woman would bear a son or a daughter. The saints could sense the mischief. Then they wrathfully said that an iron cudgel would come out from the womb of that woman and that cudgel would annihilate the Yadu-Race. That iron cudgel was the cause of the annihilation of the Yadu-Race in presence of the Lord Sree Krishna. Balarama was overwhelmed with grief and fell dead. Sree Krishna embraced death in the forest at the piercing of an arrow shot by a hunter. In view of the killing cudgel their canto has been named Cudgel Canto.

17. Departure Canto

The Pandavas were very shocked and grieved at the death and the annihilation of Sree Krishna and Yadu-Race respectively. They let Abhimanyu's son Pariksheet ascend the throne and left the kingdom with Droupadee. They proceeded towards the Himalayas.

On the way Droupadee and four brothers died. At that time the king of gods Indra came in order to take Yudhishtira to heaven without Droupadee and his brothers. Indra assured Yudhishtira that he would be able to meet his brothers there. It was only then that he agreed to go to heaven.

18. Heaven Canto

Even after reaching heaven Yudhishtira was not happy at heart. The king of gods Indra could realise it. Then Indra ordered his angels to take Yudhishtira to his brothers. At that time they were in hell as the sinners would have to suffer in hell even for a small offence or sin. Yudhishtira came to see for himself the sufferings of the denizens of hell. But at his presence their sufferings got removed. He met Droupadee, four brothers and many other relatives there. He took them with him and finally went back to heaven.

We have just read the stories of Mahabharata. The stories are like nectar. The principal message of Mahabharata is the triumph of truth. It also conveys the message of the defeat of falsehood. Truth always triumphs in the long run. Where there is religion, there is triumph. We should never seek only our happiness, our comfort and luxury. Man should try to be happy ensuring happiness for all others. Only then comes true happiness. The life of Yudhishtira teaches us the same lesson. The path of vice and evils leads us to annihilation. Similar was the consequence of Duryadhana and other Kurus. We get this moral lesson from reading the stories of Mahabharata. So we all would read Mahabharata and would apply the moral lessons in our life.

Chapter Four

Respect and Patience

Respect

To respect means to honour, to revere or love. Another meaning of respect is trust. To respect is a moral virtue and it is an integral part of religion. As a human, moral virtue respect has a great significance. Knowledge cannot be gained without respect. There occurs disorder and clash if there is an absence of the sense of respect to one another in the society.

Patience

Patience is also a moral virtue like respect. It is also an integral part of religion. Patience means fortitude. A society cannot run without patience. Unity cannot be retained. We cannot ignore it. So we must recognise the importance of patience in our personal, professional and social life.

People of different tastes and views would not be able to live and work together if there were no respect and patience among themselves. In fact, in absence of mutual respect and patience, there occur disorder, clashes and disquiet. Hence for an improved, happy and peaceful life we need to cultivate human, moral virtues of respect and patience in our life.

Our earth consists of many countries. In every country there are many people. They follow their own religions. All men are equal on earth. The ways and views of all men are not the same. Religious beliefs and modes of living are different. People follow their respective religions in their own ways. There are differences in observance of rites-rituals, customs-beliefs and religion.

The Hindus observe Hindu religion. There are many religions in the world. Of them there are four main religions. They are Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism and Christianity. The Hindus chant the name of God the Almighty. Gods-goddesses are worshipped with flowers, wood-apple leaves sandalwood and many other materials. The Buddhists worship the Lord Buddha. The Muslims offer their prayer (Namaz). The Christians chant God and Jesus Christ in praise of them.

People of different religions observe their respective social and religious rites and rituals. The Hindus observe the worship of Durga (Durga Puja). They also observe Sarosvati Puja (goddess of learning), Lakshmi Puja (goddess of wealth), Janmashtami (Birth Anniversary of Sree Krishna), Doljatra (Colour Festival), Shiva Ratre (Holy Night of Shiva). The Buddhists observe Buddha Purnima (Full Moon Festival), Kathin Chibar Dan (an offering of handloom clothes to Buddhist monks). The Christians observe Christmas Day, Easter Saturday, Easter Sunday. The Muslims observe Eid-ul-Fitre, Eid-ul-Azha, Eid-e-Mila-dun-Nabi.

Make a list of the religious ceremonies of Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism and Christianity

4.

In spite of differences in religious and social ceremonies all religions speak of truth. All religions convey the same moral messages :

- a. Always speak the truth
- b. Follow the path of honesty
- c. Do not steal
- d. Respect the elderly people
- e. Have firm faith in God the Almighty

The Hindus, the Buddhists, the Christians and the Muslims call their places of worships temple, pagoda, church and mosque respectively. Though they are named differently, their purpose is the same. The ways of these religions are different but their destination is the same. Submission of soul to the Almighty Creator and seeking welfare for all living beings and the world are the main objectives of all religions.

There are different views and ways in spite of the purpose being the same. Love and reverence for one's own religion and disrespect and intolerance to other religions are harmful. It results in alienation and narrowness.

Disrespect and intolerance lead to communalism and narrowness. Then there occur disorder and unrest in the society.

Mutual respect and tolerance can remove the narrow communalism and establish unity, fellow-feeling and understanding among the people of different religions.

We do not want strifes. We do not want communalism. We want amity, peace, order and unity. For this we need mutual respect and a spirit of tolerance.

This mutual respect and a spirit of tolerance should not be confined only to the people of different religious groups. Mutual respect and a spirit of tolerance should be practised and cultured by people irrespective of caste, creed, colour, age, gender, taste, class and status. Otherwise, there will be no peace and progress in the society.

Hermits-Saints and Religious Books

We know that God the Almighty exists in living being in the form of a soul. So to hurt a man means to hurt God. From now onwards we should not hurt anybody. We should be respectful and tolerant to children of all types and to all the people irrespective of caste, creed, colour, age gender, taste, class and status. We should be ready to invite all the people belonging to different religions to all social and religions functions and occasions. This is how we can live together in peace, amity and joy.

Chapter Five

Sacrifice and Liberality

Sacrifice

Generally sacrifice means the act of giving up something. But in the true sense of the term sacrifice means giving up one's own interest, happiness or refraining oneself from profit-earning activity. Sacrifice is a moral quality. We cannot ensure man's welfare or that of the society without sacrifice. A sacrificial man does not hesitate to make supreme sacrifices for this invaluable independence. Our freedom fighters laid down their lives for our independence. Dedicating one's life for a noble cause is indeed a great sacrifice. Besides dedicating lives we can make sacrifices in various ways. To make sacrifices for the welfare of others, for the betterment of the society and for the well-being of all human beings is an inseparable part of religion. In the holy book of Sreemadbhabadgeeta the glory of sacrifice has been highlighted.

From my own life two examples of sacrifice can be cited :

|----|

Liberality

Like sacrifice liberality is also a moral quality. To treat all humans equally is the mark of liberality. A liberal man does not discriminate in respect of treating humans. All humans rich or poor, weak or powerful are equally treated without any kind of discrimination. He loves all the people of all communities and religions. It is said : "Udarcharitanang Tu Basu-Dhaiva Kutumbookom" It means that all humans of this world are kith and kin. In fine, liberality is a moral virtue and it is an integral part of religion.

There is a close relation between sacrifice and liberality. A man cannot be sacrificial without being liberal. In ancient times a saint sacrificed his life for another person and thus set a great example of liberality. Let us hear the story.

Sacrifice and Liberality of Dadhichi Muni (Saint Dadhichi)

Long, long ago, there was a famous hermitage (the grove of an ascetic) named Naimisharanya. In this hermitage saints are used to meditation. There was a saint named Dadhichi living in that hermitage. He used to engage himself in the ascetic pursuit of meditation in that deep forest. He prayed and prayed for the welfare of all. At that time there grew a demon named Britra and the demon turned into a strong force. Moreover, he obtained a boon from the god Shiva by pleasing him. Gods and goddesses grant boons when they are pleased at someone's prayer. The boon-seeker may be a god, human or demon. The boon that the demon Britra obtained from the god Shiva was that he would not die at the stroke of a god's weapon or a demon's. With the boon received from Shiva, Britrasura became all the more powerful. He conquered Heaven, the kingdom of the gods and goddesses. He drove away all the gods-goddesses including chief god Indro, from Heaven. Then Indra went to the god Shiva with all the gods expelled from heaven. Then Shiva advised them to go to the world of Vishnu. Vishnu would give them right advice.

Devaraja Indra with other gods and saint Dadhichi

Accordingly all the gods went to Vishnu. They offered their prayer to Vishnu. Vishnu became pleased at their prayer. He told the gods to go to Dadhichi Muni at Naimisharanya. His liberality will bring welfare for them. Following the advice of Vishnu, Indra, the king of gods, went to Naimisharanya forest to meet Dadhichi Muni

To whom did the king of gods Indra go after being expelled from heaven? Let us write their names serially in the following chart.

After hearing all these Dadhichi Muni (Saint) said, "It will be impossible to kill specially blessed Britrasura with an ordinary weapon. So a new trick and device should be found out."

After a while Dadhichi Muni said that he had found out a device. Indra wanted to know what the device was. Dadhichi said that he would leave his body and embrace death. At this sudden statement all the gods became surprised. Dadhichi said to them, "One day this mortal human body will perish. For your welfare let me do this today. If I leave my body, you can use my bones to make weapons. With those weapons you can slay Britrasura, Human bones are not common weapons.

Then the chief engineer Bishava-Karma made a weapon with the bones of Dadhichi. The weapon was called Bajjra (Thunder). Indra killed Britrasura with the help of the weapon Bajjra (Thunder). As a result, heaven was regained.

This sacrifice and greatness of the soul of Dadhichi Muni (Saint) cannot be forgotten. His sacrifice has become immortal. Following his example we can also make sacrifices and show liberality and greatness of mind for the welfare of humans and their society. Let us take an example. I have a classmate with special needs. He has been suffering from a problem in his leg since his birth. He finds it difficult to walk. Every day I accompany him to school and take him back home. I have to start earlier. This early start for school to give company to my classmate who limps indicates sacrifice and extending cooperation to one's classmate by another classmate is his liberality, his greatness of soul.

3. Why did the gods lose the kingdom of heaven?
4. How did the gods regain the kingdom of heaven from Britrasura?
5. How did Dadhichi Muni help the gods?

Chapter Six

Keeping a Promise and Devotion to Our Elders

Section One

Keeping a Promise

A promise means 'to give a word'. It also means to take an oath. Once you promise, it is your duty to obey this promise. Because keeping a promise is the part of religion. It is a great quality. Those who are good or pious, always keep promises. They never break their promise inspite of their own harm. So, we shall keep our promises to follow our religion. A story related to keeping a promise is given below:

Keeping a promise by a king

Once upon a time there was a king. One day in the evening he was standing in his palace. At that time, he saw that a man was crying while walking on the road. He was carrying a basket on his head.

The king called the man by his staff. The man came. He cried and said, 'Oh! Emperor, I brought a basket full of green papayas to your market. But nobody purchased it. So, I will have to fast with my family today. The king thought, if he could sell papayas and with this money he could buy rice and other things and he could eat with his family. What will happen now?'

He thought for a little while, what to do? Then he ordered his staff to buy all papayas and to give money from the royal court. The staff did so. The man gave thanks to the king and with that money he bought rice and other things and went home with a lot of satisfaction.

Then the king thought, 'What is the best solution to this problem?' If anybody cannot sell his goods, then how will he live? After that day, the king gave an announcement, 'From today there will be no goods left unsold in the market. If there be any, I will buy the unsold goods.'

Since then many people started gathering at the market. People used to come from distant places. The king would buy all the unsold goods.

King, Dharmadeva and other god and goddess

One day a potter came with a graceless idol (Alakshmi murti). But nobody bought that idol because, if the graceless idol (Alakshmi murti) came into the house, there could not be the Goddess of Fortune (Lakshmi murti). In that case, it could be an evil for a household. At last, the potter had come to the king. And the king bought the graceless idol (Alakshmi murti) and put it in the palace very carefully. Everyone along with the minister forbade the king to buy it. But the king did not pay heed to it. The Goddess of Fortune (Lakshmi murti) had left the palace for the presence of the graceless idol (Alakshmi murti) in the palace. One by one, Ganesha, Kartitka, Saraswati all gods and goddesses left the palace. Following them the god of religion and justice (Dharmadeva) also wanted to leave. At that time, the king asked him, oh, Dharmadeva, why are you going?

Dharmadeva said, Oh! Emperor, all gods have left. How could I stay alone?

2018 The king said, "Dharmadeva, the god of justice, I did not do anything wrong. I kept my promise only. To obey the promise is the rule of religion. So, I bought the graceless idol. I have done the work of religion. Indeed, all gods and goddesses may go but you cannot go."

Dharmadeva was convinced by the king. He did not go any more. He stayed in his position. Then all gods and goddesses had come back too. In this way, the king could keep his promise and followed the religion.

From the story, 'Keeping a promise by a king' write the names of three characters in the following chart :

From this story 'Keeping a promise by a king' we learnt that keeping a promise is the part of religion. We have to obey our promise even if we truly get harmed too. And gods and goddesses help those who keep and obey the promises. On the other hand, it is the duty of the king to think about the people's joy and sorrow. If any people suffer, then the king gets bad name. We shall always remember these morals and will use in our life. We shall always keep our promises.

Devotion to Our Elders

The common meaning of a guru, who is respectable and elderly person. That is, those who are elder and senior to us are respectable persons. According to the Scriptures (shastra), he who teaches us, is our guru. We have many respectable persons. But five respectable persons are very special. They are called Pancho-guru. They are—father, mother, elder-brother, teacher and preceptor (guru). Among them, father and mother the two are the most venerable persons (mahaguru).

These respectable persons always wish for our welfare, advise us to live honestly and show the path of religion.

A respectable person is very important in our life. According to the Scriptures (shastra), the place of parents is on the top most. The father is compared with the Heaven. That is pita swargha. And the mother position is greater than the Heaven-swarghaidapi goriyasee. Mother definition is incomparable. She gives birth to us. She nourishes us. Father also nourishes us. Both of them are our well wishers.

Our respectable person is our elder brother too. In the absence of father, he nourishes us. He works for our welfare. Therefore, we have to respect him and we shall obey his advice.

Teacher enlightens us with knowledge. He explains which is good and which is bad for us. Our life becomes beautiful by his teachings. He desires good wishes for us. We have to obey his advice and we shall respect him.

The Preceptor gives the Vedic hymn to us. He teaches us the religious education. He explains to us about the piety and sin. He takes us from impiety to the path of piety. He shows the passage of spiritual union with God.

The Panchaguru desires good wishes for us. Therefore, we have to respect them. We have to adore them. At this, they bless us. By their blessings our well-being will be ensured.

Here telling an Aruni's devotion story :

Aruni's Devotion to his Teacher

Once upon a time, students stayed and studied with their preceptor (guru). At that time, there was an acharya or teacher, his name was Dhoumya. He had three pupils or shishya. They were—Aruni, Upamanyu and Veda.

One day it was heavy rainfall. The preceptor (guru) called upon Aruni and said to him, 'Water is flowing out from the agricultural land. You shall go and repair the ridge of the land and stop the water stream'. As per preceptor's instruction Aruni went for repair the ridge of the land. He tried a lot but he could not control the flow of rain water. Aruni could not find any other way also. At last, he lay down on broken ridge of the agricultural land and the water flow was stopped.

Aruni's Ridge Repairing

Meanwhile, the sun set, it became dark all around. But Aruni did not come back. The preceptor (guru) became anxious. He along with two pupils Upamanyu and Veda went out in search of Aruni.

The preceptor (guru) went near the agricultural land. He called with a loud voice, Dear Aruni, where are you? He replied to the preceptor (guru), I am here. I am lying down on the ridge of the land.' The preceptor said, 'get up and come on'. Aruni came back to the guru and showed respect to him.

Then he explained the happenings. The teacher was very pleased and happy at Aruni's performance. He said, 'You will gather all the knowledge. He also said, now you shall return to your home. As you get up from the ridge of the land (ala), so, your new name will be 'Uddalaka'. Aruni got the blessings from his teacher and went back to his native town Panchala.

We have learnt from the story of 'Aruni's Devotion to Teacher'. So, we have to respect our teachers. We have to obey the teacher's order and we have to show them respect. Nobody can succeed in life without respect. If we do any work with respect we get success. And with proper respects the venerable persons become pleased. Then they give us blessing from the bottom of their heart. With their blessings the students become successful.

Section Two

Posture of Sitting (Asanas)

The term Asana, Posture of sitting means different forms of yoga-exercise. Yoga is very useful to health and it increases our working capacity. For the religious practices we need two rules. Saints-sages also understood the rules ages ago. So, they started different types of posture (Asana) and gesture regularly. In the modern time, those who have introduced this, two mentionable persons are Swami Kublayannada and Sree Yogendra.

As a result of yoga practice the body parts become healthy. Muscles get nourished. Different results come from different types of postures. For example-Shriashan is useful to brain .The nervous system regulates our body mechanism. Brain is the central nervous system. Due to Shriashan sufficient blood circulates in brain. As a result brain works properly. In the same way other postures are helpful to the parts of the body. Vajrasana (thunderbolt sitting) and Padahastan (Leg-hand posture) are described below :

Vajrasana

In this posture, we have to kneel on both knees. The upper portion, the feet should be placed on a soft blanket. One has to sit on the both heels keeping the back position of the body straight. We have to place our two hands straight on two knees. In this position be careful that the anus is to be placed in between the two heels. At the beging, in this posture slight pain in knees may be felt. Later on it will be adjusted. If there is any problem in knees advice should be taken from an expert.

Thunderbolt sitting (Vajrasana)

At the beginning for regular practice this posture should be 4 times each for 30 seconds. Due to this posture the nervous systems of body's lower part and muscles becomes firm and strong like thunderbolt. So, it is called thunderbolt sitting.

Diseases such as sciatica, leg arthritis etc., will not attack us practising thunderbolt sitting. After meal, practice this posture 5-10 minutes to digest the things easily. Regular practice of this posture after meal is very fruitful for chronic patient

Padahasthasana

In this posture firstly we have to stand straight by joining two legs. After that taking constant breathing both hands uphold straight pressing ears should be raised over head. Now 'bend down' in front the upper part of the body from the waist breathing out constantly. In this position the palms of hands should touch the ground of both sides of legs, and forehead should be kept in touch with the knees. In this position breathing in and breathing out should be normal. In this posture the knees should be straight. At the beginning this exercise seems hard. But it is adjustable with a regular practice for a few days.

Stay 5-10 seconds in this way according to the capacity. There after the body should be straight alone with hands up breathing in constantly. Then bring down both hands breathing out constantly. Such as, regular practice for 5 to 6 times in this way and then one minute rest by sitting.

Specially muscles of legs and hands and nervous system remain healthy. So it is called the leg-hand posture (Padahasthasana).

This posture (Padahasthasana) reduces the abdomen. As a result stomach, liver intestine, gall bladder etc., become healthy. By this constipation, weakness, diabetes etc., get cured. It

Leg-hand posture (Padahasthasana)

Temples and Places for Pilgrimage

Temples

Temples are the abodes of gods and goddesses. Different idols of gods and goddesses are kept there. Everyday people perform worships of the gods and goddesses in the temples. We know that, the places where idols of god and goddesses are kept and where worships are performed called temples.

The temples are named according to the names of gods and goddesses. For example—the temple of Shiva, the temple of Kali, the temple of Krishna, the temple of Vishnu etc. In the temple of Shiva exists the idol of Shiva. In the temple of Kali exists the idol of Kali. In the temple of Krishna exists the idol of Krishna. In the temple of Durga exists the Durga's idol. In different temples exists different kinds of idols of gods and goddesses.

We make a list of whatever we see in a temple :

Temple is the holy, scared place. A temple is well known as the religious place and also pilgrimage. On visiting the temple, soul and body become holy and purified. Devotees visit the temple to see gods and goddesses, perform worships for the gods and goddesses, show their devotion to the god and goddesses, and pray to god and goddesses. By this earn pity. Visiting a temple flourishes the spirit of religion. To gods and goddesses mind becomes full of respect. So, everybody should go to the temple to visit the gods and goddesses and perform worships in the temple.

There are big big temples in Bangladesh and India. For example, Dhakeshwari temple in Dhaka, Kantaji temple at Dinajpur. The temple of kali at Kalighat of Kolkata in India, temple of kali of Dhakhinesshar, Jagannatha temple of Puri etc.

Here is given some information about the temple of Jagannatha at a Puri in India.

Temple Jagannatha at Puri

Temple of Jagannatha is situated at Puri in the state of Orissa in India. It is the greatest temple of Puri. This temple is situated on the coast of the Bay of Bengal. The temple of Jagannatha was built up in 12th century on the top of a large stone. There are four doors of the temple. Those are shingadorja, hasteedorja, horshodorja and baygrodorja. To go to this temple we have to pass a stair of twenty-two steps. The doors of the temple open at 5 a.m. and the day starts with religious songs along with the ceremonial waving of lights.

Though, the name of this temple is Jagannatha temple, but in the temple Jagannatha is not the only god. The idols of Balarama and Subhadra are also with him. These three gods are three parts or shapes of God are Balarama, Vishnu and Shiva. Religious worships, great food offering to gods and ceremonial waving of lights occur everyday. Everyday many devotees come from various places of the world to the temple of Jagannatha.

There are most beautiful sculptures on the walls of the temple. In the temple of Jagannatha everyday takes place a great food offering to God. There are thirty temples surrounding the main temple. Twelve festivals are performed in a year at Jagannatha temple: among these festivals the main is chariot march (Rathayatra) startly after lifting idols of Jagannatha, Balarama and Subhadra on the chariot.
